HBCU Library Alliance
2012 Membership Meeting
Protecting Our Legacy, Preserving Our Story
A Decade of Investment in HBCU Libraries

October 21-23, 2012
New Orleans Marriott on Canal Street
New Orleans, LA
Leadership Institute IV, February 2012

Board of Directors meeting at Atlanta University Center Woodruff Library, June 2010

Phyllis Earles, Prairie View A&M University, Colleague Instructor, assisting Photographic Preservation project workshop participants at Oakwood University (AL), July 2012
Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to the 5th Membership Meeting of the HBCU Library Alliance. This meeting is particularly significant as we celebrate the 10th anniversary of the founding of our organization. As noted in our conference theme, the organization has spent the last decade investing in our libraries by “protecting our legacy and preserving our story”. Our activities over the years have reflected our investment and our efforts to support and strengthen our library and, therefore, our institutions. Distinctive activities include:

• Our stellar leadership institutes that have given both seasoned and emerging leaders theoretical and practical instruction and resources, which have improved teaching and learning on our campuses.

• Our collaborations with Cornell University and University of Delaware that have assured our unique documents and photographs detailing the history and cultural heritage of our institutions will be preserved for future generations.

• Documentation and dissemination of the history of our organization that have increased our visibility and ability to secure support for our programs.

Please actively engage in our conference activities celebrating our past, while thinking seriously about the future direction of the organization. On this 10th anniversary, I would like to give "shout-outs" and thanks to our founders, Loretta O’Brien Parham, Janice R. Franklin, Emma Bradford Perry, Elsie Weatherington, the late Tommy Holton and Kate Nevins and LYRASIS, whose vision has brought us to this place and time. I would like to acknowledge the Planning Committee – my co-chair, Cynthia Charles, as well as Dawn Kight, Shatiqua Mosby-Wilson, Emma Bradford Perry, Blanche Sanders, Paula Singleton and Adrienne Webber. The Planning Committee is especially grateful for our central office staff of Sandra Phoenix and Melinda Thomas. This conference would not have been possible without their outstanding dedication and effort.

The Alliance was prevented from holding the 2006 membership meeting in New Orleans as a result of Hurricane Katrina. We are finally here to enjoy beautiful New Orleans, home to several of our institutions. Let’s agree to not only work hard, but to also play hard during our time here.

Here’s to a great meeting,

Mary Jo Fayoyin
Chair, HBCU Library Alliance
2012 Membership Meeting Chair
Director of Library Services
Savannah State University (GA)
It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to New Orleans and the 5th Membership Meeting of the HBCU Library Alliance!

The HBCU Libraries of the Greater New Orleans Region are honored to host our members in this beautiful, historic city. The rich history and culture of New Orleans provides a unique setting for celebrating the accomplishments of our organization, while honoring the rich legacies of our individual institutions. We are pleased that you have chosen our city to host this historic event.

The quality of life in New Orleans ranks as one of highest in our metropolitan area. You can find many historical facts and sights at www.neworleansonline.com. Please take a few moments to acquaint yourself with them at your leisure.

Again, welcome to New Orleans, and we hope that you will be encouraged by this meeting to contribute to the work of the HBCU Library Alliance.

Sincerely,
Cynthia Charles
2012 Membership Meeting Co-Chair
Interim Dean, Will W. Alexander Library
Dillard University (LA)
It is with great pride that I welcome you to the HBCU Library Alliance Fifth Membership Meeting! How exciting it is that we are here in New Orleans, a city known for its rich variety of cultures and traditions. We hope you will find inspiration in this meeting as we reflect upon and celebrate our accomplishments and consider the future directions of our unique organization.

Ten years ago, and for the first time in history, more than 100 library deans and directors came together to discuss strategies to create an organization to strengthen HBCU libraries. We have made great advances in our community, and our meeting’s theme, “Protecting our Legacy, Preserving our Story: A Decade of Investment in HBCU Libraries,” highlights the significant role of the HBCU Library Alliance over the past decade.

This membership meeting will have a structure similar to the 2002 inaugural meeting. It’s time for our community to work together to explore and design a strategy to support the next decade of service to member institutions. Dr. Consuella Askew will facilitate a discussion on the “Future Directions of the HBCU Library Alliance.” Your participation is vital as we begin these critical conversations.

Major kudos to Mary Jo Fayoyin, Cynthia Charles and their team for an agenda designed to evoke conversation and create partnerships. A most gracious “thank you” is due to my administrative assistant, Melinda Thomas, for her commitment and continued support of the Alliance’s activities.

The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation is sponsoring a preconference on Sunday, “Using Effective Advocacy and Fundraising to Preserve HBCUs Rich Photographic Legacy.” HBCU partners and project consultants will share their knowledge and experiences as they work together to preserve photographic collections documenting our history and culture. Join me as we increase our awareness of the important photographic resources in our collections.

Monday evening’s inaugural fundraising dinner is not to be missed. Thanks are in order to Stuart Grinnell of Ambassador Books for supporting this activity. I look forward to celebrating our accomplishments and dining with you at the Oceana Restaurant.

My goal is for you to be encouraged to make a greater commitment to the HBCU Library Alliance. The Membership Meeting will provide you an opportunity to participate in important discussions related to the future of our organization. Please come prepared to reflect, celebrate and work together to advance the HBCU Library Alliance.

I look forward to seeing you.

Respectfully,

Sandra Phoenix, Executive Director

To the participants of the HBCU Library Alliance 5th Biennial Membership Meeting

On behalf of Secretary Arne Duncan and Dr. William R. Harvey, Chairman of the President’s Board on Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), I am pleased to bring greetings to each person attending the 2012 HBCU Library Alliance 5th Biennial Membership Meeting. I trust this biennial meeting will provide a stimulating forum for you to share ideas and best practices. The theme, “Protecting Our Legacy, Preserving Our Story: A Decade of Investment in HBCU Libraries” highlights an area of mutual interest: the need to invest in technology and innovative programs to enhance programs and improve program performance.

I congratulate each of you for the significant role and contributions made in developing and implementing programs and initiatives that considerably strengthen the HBCU library and photographic preservation activities. Additionally, we value and appreciate your efforts to increase library holdings, and to digitize and preserve the historical artifacts entrusted to your care.

The White House Initiative on HBCUs welcomes the opportunity to discuss the outcomes from your meeting, or any ideas you may have about reaching our college-completion goals. Thank you for your support and best wishes for a successful gathering!

Sincerely,

John Silvanus Wilson, Jr.
Executive Director

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

DR. CONSUELLA ASKEW

Consuella Askew, EdD, is Associate Dean of Public Services for Florida International University Libraries in Miami. Prior to her appointment at Florida International University, Dr. Askew was employed by The City University of New York (CUNY), as Associate Professor and Chief Librarian for the Graduate School of Journalism and before that Medgar Evers College. She was a member of the program team for the LibQUAL+™ project at the Association of Research Libraries, serving as the Program Coordinator during its developmental years. During her 18-year career, she has worked in a number of library environments, including school, public and academic libraries. Dr. Askew received her MLS from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and her EdD in Higher Education from Florida International University. Her quantitative dissertation study focused on the application of Lotka’s Law of publication productivity to the field of librarianship.

RON BLAKELY

Mr. Blakely currently serves as an Associate Director, White House Initiative on Historically Black Colleges and Universities (WHI-HBCU), in the Department of Education. In 2007, he joined the Initiative staff to assist the Executive Director with operational leadership and program guidance. He has worked to revitalize underperforming HBCU programs and to identify new funding sources. He is involved with capacity building, infrastructure enhancement and program development. He encourages greater collaboration among HBCUs and in developing new program initiatives. He also works with federal agencies to increase program funding for HBCUs.

Prior to joining the White House Initiative, Mr. Blakely served as an Associate Director, US Army Small Business Office. He received a Bachelor of Science in Social Work at Tuskegee (Institute) University and a Master of Arts in Human Resources Management at Pepperdine University.

DR. SHANESHA R.F. BROOKS-TATUM

Dr. Shanesha R. F. Brooks-Tatum earned her doctorate in American Studies from the University of Michigan. She is Project Coordinator/Writer for the HBCU Library Alliance and former Postdoctoral Fellow at Atlanta University Center’s Woodruff Library, where she worked in the Archives Research Center and taught research methods and writing. She is author of several scholarly articles and Co-Editor of Reading African American Experiences in the Obama Era: Theory, Advocacy, Activism (2012). Dr. Brooks-Tatum is currently a Visiting Scholar at the Interdenominational Theological Center’s (ITC) Womanist Scholars Program, where she taught a course on gender, race, and religion in hip-hop and is working on her book titled The Holy Hip-Hop Movement: Performance, Politics, and the Rise of E-Spirituality.

DR. FLAVIA ELDEMIRE

Dr. Eldemire is a lifetime member of the National Black MBA Association. She is Chair for the Division of Business at Allen University, Columbia, SC. Dr. Eldemire has held numerous consulting and faculty positions throughout the New England region and the Carolinas. Her area of specialty is in leadership development, self-leadership, organizational development, and change management. She has assisted numerous organizations, teams and individuals to bring about and to manage change effectively. She has been a staff consultant for The Levinson Institute, Boston, MA, providing consulting services to executives and a senior consultant for The Galilee Agency, Inc., a Charlotte, NC based organizational development consulting firm.

Dr. Eldemire is a certified consultant and test administrator for Emotional Intelligence, People Skills and Franklin Covey’s The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People. She is a member of the Society for Human Resource Management, The Academy of Management and The American Psychological Association.
