BOARD CHAIR LETTER

Greetings and Welcome to Transforming Libraries for the 21st Century and Beyond: Sustaining the HBCU Library Alliance!

This is the 6th Membership Meeting of the HBCU Library Alliance and as such holds the opportunity for us to look to strategically position ourselves for the next steps in our association's life.

At 12 years old, the organization is poised on the threshold of adolescence, we have many strengths and skills but we know that we have much to do and learn quickly if we are to make it to adulthood.

As we reflect upon our legacy and make sure that we and our stories are known, we look to remind ourselves how much we have accomplished since 2012:

Exceptional activities include:

- The conclusion of Phase IV of our leadership institute to strengthen libraries through better integration of their services into teaching and learning. Ten library exchange projects were completed. Thirty-two webinars were taught by 27 Instructors.
- The publication of "A Decade of Achievement, a Call to Excellence: The History and Contributions of the HBCU Library Alliance" by Marlene D. Allen and Shanesha R. F. Brooks-Tatum in the International Journal of Academic Library and Information Science Vol. 2(2), pp. 14-21, February 2014
<http://www.academicresearchjournals.org/IJALIS/PDF/2014/February/Allen%20and%20Brooks-Tatum.pdf>
- The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation funded Project "Expanding Library Support for Faculty Research in HBCUs" is well underway. This project will assess and strengthen library service in support of faculty research at HBCUs and involves a partnership with the HBCU Faculty Development Network. Two surveys have gone out and webinars are being planned that will start in mid-October.
- Collaboration with Emory University: The Emory Center for Digital Scholarship/HBCU Library Alliance Summer Institute was a week-long workshop held in Atlanta at Emory University. Twenty institutions participated in the training designed to assist participants in acquiring technical skills for building select digital projects.

I look forward to us interacting in our engaging conference activities. This is an opportunity for us to look at current trends while exploring keys to transformation as well as strategically charting our future.

As we turn 12, I am thankful for our founders, Loretta O'Brien Parham, Janice R. Franklin, Emma Bradford Perry, Elsie Weatherington, the late Tommy Holton and Kate Nevins and LYRASIS, whose vision continues to sustain us. I would like to acknowledge the Planning Committee – Chair Loretta O'Brien Parham, Mary Jo Fayoyin, LaVerne McLaughlin, Elizabeth G. McClenney and Marvelyn Thomas.

Special thanks goes to our excellent Executive Director Sandra Phoenix as she continues her focus to strengthen HBCU libraries. This conference would not have been possible without her dedication and effort.

I look forward to seeing you in Atlanta!

PLANNING COMMITTEE CHAIR LETTER

Colleagues:

Welcome to the 6th Biennial Membership Meeting of the HBCU Library Alliance, and welcome to Georgia! I've been looking forward to this meeting for some time. As well, I am very excited about the opportunity to greet you when you visit the Atlanta University Center Robert W. Woodruff Library. Planning for this meeting has been conducted by a stellar local arrangements committee. I want to express my deep appreciation to the committee members for the time and effort they graciously contributed.

To each of you, I want to express my hope that you will find your time at this meeting to be rewarding, both professionally and personally. Our meeting is a time when we can comfortably discuss matters of importance to HBCU libraries and archives, and a time when we can gather to renew relationships with one another. Of significance also is the need to discuss our organization and restate its value and viability as we look into the near future.

These are difficult times for us. Resources are dwindling, enrollments are stagnant or declining in some cases, and the value or need for libraries is being questioned. Historically, library services have been in the greatest demand during difficult times, and librarians have stepped over large barriers to respond and to serve. We will need to continue to take big steps to stay ahead of the changing climate in higher education, in technology, and in information sciences. This meeting provides a platform for these conversations and for those who will inform how we, the HBCU library, remain relevant and of value to the thousands of students and faculty we proudly serve.

Enjoy your time here and let us use this occasion together to make the HBCU Library Alliance a stronger organization.

Respectfully,

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR LETTER

Welcome to the HBCU Library Alliance Sixth Membership Meeting. It's been twelve years since our historic inaugural meeting here in Atlanta where more than 100 HBCU library deans and directors gathered to discuss issues and concerns facing their libraries. The HBCU Library Alliance was borne from those discussions with a goal to strengthen White House-designated HBCU libraries and the communities they serve. I'm proud of our accomplishments!

Major kudos to Planning Committee Chair Loretta Parham, Atlanta University Center Woodruff Library (GA), and her staff members Elizabeth Gail McClenney and Marvelyn Thomas. They were assisted by Mary Jo Fayoyin, Savannah State University (GA) and LaVerne McLaughlin, Albany State University (GA). All have shared their expertise, staff and resources to make this meeting successful.

Our theme, Transforming Libraries for the 21st Century and Beyond: Sustaining the HBCU Library Alliance, allows us to consider strategic sustainable directions for our organization. We must also be mindful of the challenges member institutions are facing as they support and serve their communities. The time has come to set goals, brainstorm actions to achieve those goals, and identify resources. The Strategic Planning session presents this opportunity and your input is needed to advance the mission of our organization.

Atlanta continues to grow as a culturally diverse and progressive city. I encourage you to venture out and explore the sights of this southeast metropolis. Atlanta is home to many major attractions accompanied by a Southern hospitality that's second to none.

The Membership Meeting provides an opportunity for you to re-connect and participate in discussions about important issues facing member institutions. Come armed with your questions and suggestions.

I look forward to seeing you.

To the participants of the HBCU Library Alliance 6th Biennial Membership Meeting

On behalf of the President's Board of Advisors on Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU) and the White House Initiative on Historically Black Colleges and Universities, I am pleased to forward this letter of congratulations on your 6th Biennial Membership Meeting. We hope that your session will challenge the attendees as you discuss the most important issues confronting HBCU libraries. This is a transformative moment for your organization, as HBCU leaders are increasingly seeking a more collaborative environment where services rendered and measurable outcomes are highly valued.

The 2014 conference theme “Transforming Libraries for the 21st Century and Beyond: Sustaining the HBCU Library Alliance” highlights the importance of engaging HBCU libraries and students and embracing new technologies. HBCU libraries are also the repositories of documents that encourage new areas of research in emerging areas of importance (i.e. plant and animal science, nanotechnology and engineering).

The HBCU Library Alliance is also performing an essential function in preserving the artifacts and historical records located on campuses. The Leadership Development Programs that focus on the next generation of HBCU librarians is particularly noteworthy. We recognize your targeted programs greatly assist in recruiting and retaining highly motivated students and increasing graduation rates.

I wish you a successful 6th Membership meeting.

Sincerely,

George Cooper
